MEDIA ADVISORY:

Port of New Orleans Felicite Street entrance will temporarily close during Memorial Day Holiday weekend for rail crossing upgrades

NEW ORLEANS — The Felicite Street entrance to the Port of New Orleans (Port NOLA) cargo facilities will be temporarily closed beginning Sunday, May 28 through Monday, May 29 as the New Orleans Public Belt Railroad (NOPB) makes rail crossing upgrades.

During the Felicite closure, vehicle traffic will enter and exit the Port at the Louisiana Avenue and Napoleon Avenue access points. Port NOLA and NOPB have worked with stakeholders to schedule the closure during a holiday weekend to avoid significant interruptions, however traffic delays may still be possible.

The work is expected to be completed Monday, May 29 and the Felicite Street entrance will reopen on Tuesday, May 30.

About Port NOLA:

The Port of New Orleans (Port NOLA) is a modern multimodal gateway for global commerce and an in-demand cruise port — delivering seamless, integrated logistics solutions between river, rail and road. Port NOLA is a diverse deepwater port uniquely located on the Mississippi River near the Gulf of Mexico -- with access to 30-plus major inland hubs such as Dallas, Memphis, Chicago and Canada via 14,500 miles of waterways, 6 Class I railroads and interstate roadways. Strategic alignment with the New Orleans Public Belt Railroad, a Class III connecting railroad, strengthens Port NOLA's position as an integrated hub and supports the Port's mission of driving regional economic prosperity.
